Comments: Hi Shell Lake ,my husband and I visited Shell Lake again this summer while on a fishing and camping trip in that area. My grandfather, Reg Carter homesteaded at Paddling Lake, think now its called Iriquos Lake. My mother Bessie went to school in the area. Was wondering if anyone remembered them? We tried to find a camp site on Iriquos Lake but could not find one. We live in east central Alberta ,a little place named Hardisty, our claim to fame here is a huge crude oil tank farm that is under massive expansion now. Hope to hear from anyone who remembers Mother or Grandfather.

COMMITTEE/CLUB ANNOUNCEMENTS

SHELL LAKE & DISTRICT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

At the last meeting in May no final decision was made with reference to the motion brought forward at the annual meeting: 'that the organization be wound up & its effective existence terminated'.
The few in attendance chose to leave the motion dormant until fall.

Letters have been sent to the membership, other businesses & individuals to attend a meeting at Partners in Worship on Thurs.

October 11th at 7:30 p.m.

Since the Chamber was formed in 2003 we approved a constitution which was revised this past year to better reflect our needs.

We have designed a logo for use by all community groups, a banner to use in promoting our community & a promotional display board. We have arranged seminars for businesses & community groups, improved highway signage and campaigned for cellular telephone access. We have assisted & worked with businesses & groups to provide recreational activities, as well as the beautification of main street.

It is important that all businesses as well as interested individuals attend this meeting so that proper decisions are made.
The Chamber operates to provide direction for the business community to make Shell Lake grow which will in turn improve the economic climate for all concerned & make Shell Lake a better place to live & visit. As a community we cannot wait for people to find us so we must promote, promote, promote.

LIBRARY BOARD

We would like to thank all who volunteered during Hey Days - Alan Stalwick who fired up the clay oven, Roxanne Diesen along with her sisters and nieces for
